Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 6/16/08 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over 09-071480 ('480), reference will be made to the machine translation of '480. JP '480 discloses a method of fusing glass to ceramics by which chipping or breaking of the ceramics can be reduced. '480 provide for placing a piece of glass (10) on top of a ceramic board 11 (see figure 1) and then heating the glass to a temperature to which glass flows. (See Paragraph 8). '480 is silent disclosing the claimed heating temperature of 1000 to 1700°C. However, in view that '480 provides for heating the glass to a sufficient temperature that would make the glass "flow" it would be obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the to have heated the glass to claimed temperatures in order to assure the glass flows into the ceramic and fuses to the ceramic.

Moreover, the temperature at which the glass flows would depend on the claimed composition of the glass. In view that '480 at paragraph 14 notes that any type of glass may be used, it would follow that specific temperatures such as those instantly claimed are merely an indication of the type of glass being used.

As for the claimed treatment time, figure 2 of '480 discloses the claimed treatment time, but which would also depend on the composition of the glass.

As for claim 2, paragraph 14 of '480 teaches that the glass has a lower CTE smaller than the ceramic.

As for claim 3, see above noting that '480 provides that any type of glass may be used, thus the claimed composition is following the teachings set forth by '480 to use any type of glass.

As for claims 4-9, in regards to the claimed temperatures and time see above noting that temperature depends on the type of glass being used, and as for the claimed use of zirconia ceramics and alumina ceramics see paragraph 12 of '480.

Response to Arguments

.Applicant's arguments with respect to the pending claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
